

LABORER HAS LOST RIGHTS OF THE UNION

Gompers Denounces Sherman Law as Intimidable to Labor Union

MINI-UP RIGHT FREE SPEECH

John Hays Hammond Urges Corporation Regulation by Congress

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Labor organizations are allowed to exist in the United States, yet the right of free speech and free action is denied them under the Sherman antitrust law, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, asserted today in an address at the fourteenth annual meeting of the National Civic Federation. The regulation of industrial corporations was the general topic of discussion by Mr. Gompers. John Hays Hammond, Prof. J. W. Jenks of New York University, John M. Stahl of the Federal Reserve Bank, Timothy Leary, President A. B. Garretson of the Order of Railway Conductors and others.

Mr. Gompers cited a recent case in which a labor body was dissolved by the courts and other cases in which individuals have been indicted because they struck in sympathy with fellow workers. He recalled the coal strike of 1902.

Victory Dearly Bought.
"The victory was dearly bought and the suffering was awful," he said, "but the movement was worthy and wrought a great change in the economic, material, social and moral condition of the workers."
He continued:
"The working people in the anthracite and bituminous regions of Pennsylvania are now threatened with the loss of their rights, for the employers are attempting to take their rights from them. It is the duty of the union to see that the conditions of the workers are maintained."

Can Do Nothing.
"Do you see the position in which our movement is placed by this Sherman law?" he asked. "We can do nothing."
"In the last five years 250,000 union persons became affiliated with the American Federation of Labor than in any previous five years. But for all that, there is not a labor organization in the United States that does not exist at the sufferance of our country or for political reasons. They exist by the permission of the government. The right of coalition of labor and of free speech, however, is denied them under the Sherman law. Their liberty has been snuffed."

John Hays Hammond urged that the regulation of corporations should be left to an interstate industrial commission whose duty would be on a parity with that of the United States supreme court. A. B. Garretson said that agreements between organizations of workmen and their employers fixing hours of labor, conditions and wages, should not be construed as being in violation of the Sherman law.

'MONA LISA' IS FOUND IN ITALY

FAMOUS PAINTING WILL BE RESTORED

It Says He Stole It Out

FLORENCE, Italy, Dec. 12.—"Mona Lisa," Leonardo da Vinci's great painting, which was stolen from the Louvre in Paris, more than two years ago, has been found. It is now in the hands of the Italian authorities and will be returned to France.

The picture was recovered under curious circumstances. An Italian writer, Signor Geri, an antiquary of Florence, some weeks ago, saying:

"I am in possession of the missing 'Mona Lisa,' but being a patriotic Italian, I desire that it shall remain in Florence, the center of Italian art."

Thought Thief Madman.
He signed the letter "Leonard," and the antiquary at first paid small attention to it, thinking he had to do with a madman. Later, however, he communicated with Dr. Foggi, director of the Florentine museums, who suggested that he continue the correspondence with the man. This was done, and an appointment was arranged whereby Geri was to show the picture at Milan. The date set was November 17, but unforeseen circumstances prevented the meeting.

A young man, fairly well dressed, visited Geri yesterday. He said he was "Leonard," and was staying at the Hotel Tripoli. He asked Geri to go with him to see the picture. The dealer notified Dr. Foggi, who hastened to the hotel, and on being shown the picture, he recognized it as the genuine "Mona Lisa."

Dr. Foggi asked to be allowed to take the picture with him so that he might compare it with other works. He made an appointment to meet "Leonard" this afternoon at the Hotel Tripoli. The dealer took with him several officers, who showed the man under arrest.

Pass as Patriot.
On being interrogated, the prisoner said his real name is Vincenzo Perugia, that he was born in the province of Como, is by profession a decorator, and is married. For six years he lived in France, and for three years was employed at the Louvre.

Perugia posed as a patriot. "I was ashamed," he said, "that for more than a century no Italian had thought of avenging the spoliation committed by Frenchmen under Napoleon, when they carried off from the Italian museums and galleries pictures, statues and treasures of all kinds by wagonloads, ancient manuscripts by thousands and gold by sacks."

He had often observed, he said, in the Louvre many works of art stolen from Italy, and conceived the idea of returning to its true home Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece. He entered the Louvre early in the morning, detached the picture and removed the painting from the frame. He concealed the frame under the back stairs where it was afterward found. He hid the picture beneath his workman's house and succeeded in leaving the place without attracting suspicion.

At the time of the theft, Perugia

ORGANIZED LABOR IS OPPOSED TO STRIKES

Opinion Grows That Springs Unions Will Not Favor General Walkout

Belief that organized labor in Colorado Springs is strongly opposed to a statewide strike was further strengthened yesterday in an interview with J. K. Radley, one of the best-known and ablest union men in the city and a delegate to the Colorado State Federation of Labor convention in Denver next Tuesday, who while he refuses to go on record either one way or the other, conveys the impression that he is emphatically opposed to a sympathetic walkout.

"Who originated all this talk about a State Federation of Labor convention being called to decide whether or not a statewide strike is to be called?" was Radley's interrogatory answer to a query as to whether or not he favored a general walkout as a means of bringing about a more speedy settlement of the coal miners' strike in southern Colorado. "Organized labor certainly didn't give that as a reason for calling the convention. As a matter of fact, statewide strike is not mentioned in the official call. The meeting is merely to discuss all sides of the miners' strike, then to act as the delegates to the convention see fit."

Cannot Passes Action.

"Do you think a statewide strike will be called by the convention in Denver next Tuesday?" he was asked. "How can I force what action the convention will take?" He answered. "The meeting is called only to discuss the strike troubles in the southern part of the state."

"But the convention can call a strike, can't it?" the interviewer insisted. "Strikes usually are called only by a referendum vote, so the opinion of every worker can be ascertained. It is possible, I suppose, for the convention to call a general strike. However, I, for one, would ask that a referendum vote be taken."

"Would you favor a statewide strike?"

"Organized labor doesn't favor a strike of any kind. We always try to settle through arbitration; strike is the last resort."

"Then you are not in favor of a general walkout?"

"I didn't say that."

"But you intimated as much."

"I don't and can't know the opinion of the other members of my organization."

Avoids Strike Unfavorable.

"Your personal opinion—what is it?"

"That I don't care to state. Besides I am not thoroughly acquainted with conditions."

"But knowing what you do, you believe a statewide strike would be undesirable and unfortunate at this time?"

"It would be at any time."

"Then you are opposed to strikes."

"All organized laborers are."

"That being the case you would oppose a statewide strike should the question come up at the convention? You are not in favor of a general walkout?"

Evading the direct question, Mr. Radley started off on a new subject:

"As I understand the call, the chief object of the convention is to acquiesce organized labor throughout the state with conditions as they exist in the Trinidad fields. Few people know just what those miners down there have to contend with. And we want all our unions to thoroughly understand the situation."

Governor Could Battle It.

"What action, in your opinion, would bring about the speediest settlement?"

"The governor has the power to settle this trouble. Why doesn't he do it?"

Whether or not local delegates to the convention will go with instructions is not known as yet. It is probable that they will be told to act as they see fit if any matter of a more serious nature is taken up by the convention.

Mr. Radley refuses absolutely to make a definite statement on the question, but it is apparent that he believes the convention will merely go into the coal miners' strike from all angles, then pass resolutions on their findings, possibly making recommendations as to methods of settlement.

HENRY C. HALL MAY RECEIVE APPOINTMENT

Position Regarded as One of Most Important in the United States

URGED FOR INTERSTATE COMMISSION

Henry C. Hall, one of the most prominent attorneys in the west and at present city attorney of Colorado Springs, has been recommended by United States Senator Thomas to President Wilson for appointment to the interstate commerce commission, according to dispatches received here yesterday morning. Three positions on the commission at present are vacant.

Faculty Works With Students.

A long rope was procured and the men, together with the president, Dean Calori, and several of the professors, succeeded in getting the coal to the college, where it was stored in the boiler room. Another party of students went out last night and succeeded in bringing in an additional 10 tons, that will enable the college to heat the buildings. The coal shortage at the institution was becoming critical, and the residents of the dormitories were asked to be economical with the steam heat. No classes have been held in Palmer hall, owing to the fuel shortage, and the dormitories and Cutler academy have been used for class rooms.

The spectacle of the college men hauling coal for their alma mater was one probably never seen before in the city. In addition to doing their work, the students and members of the faculty engaged in a snowball fight, and made the affair a holiday.

As soon as the roads are opened, and the coal shortage is somewhat relieved, it is believed that city will resume its normal life.

HENRY C. HALL

He being caused by the expiration of terms and the other through the recent death of Secretary Mallard, who succeeded J. Milton K. Lane.

When seen at his home, 1601 Wood avenue, last night, Mr. Hall refused absolutely to talk of the matter, neither denying nor confirming the statement that his name had been presented to the president for consideration.

No co-sponsor for Mr. Hall has been named. Mr. Hall has been carrying on, after the Colorado Springs or Colorado, and the announcement that Senator Thomas has presented his name for appointment comes as a surprise to friends in this city.

A seat on the interstate commerce commission is generally considered next in importance only to a position on the bench of the United States supreme court. Thus far, no western man has ever received an appointment to the commission, a fact which, it is believed, will make the western states unanimous in their support of Mr. Hall.

Mr. Hall has been a lawyer of this city, and has practiced law here for many years. He is well known throughout the west, and at one time was president of the Colorado State Bar association.

COLORADO AND UTAH LEAD

WORLD IN RAPID MINING

Mineral Being Rapidly Depleted in U. S., Says Report by Bureau of Mines

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Deposits of radiating minerals in the United States are being rapidly depleted by wasteful exploitation chiefly for the benefit of foreign markets, according to a report issued today by the bureau of mines. From Colorado and Utah, said to possess the most important radiating deposits known in the world, the report said, there was shipped to Europe in 1912 carnotite ores valued at approximately $72,000.

At this time, one American company is engaged in making radium, and its product has only recently been offered for sale. This, the report added, "opened to foreign medicine and science, and in this most promising field, that have been denied to our own people by purchasing the material from abroad at prohibitive prices."

STOP, LOOK AND CONSIDER--

THEN BUY A RED CROSS SEAL

Have you bought your Red Cross seal? If not, do so. Every Red Cross seal purchased in Colorado Springs during the days from now until Christmas will help along the cause of Sunnyrest sanatorium. The local institution is to receive 65 per cent of the gross receipts from the sale of these holiday stickers. The rest of the proceeds will go to the Rocky Mountain Public Health association and the American Red Cross society—25 per cent to the former and 10 per cent to the latter.

Do your Christmas seal buying early. Sunnyrest needs your support. The seals cost one cent each, and every penny will help to bring light and air to some sufferer.

There are 20 school children under 16 years of age at Sunnyrest. They are trying to get well so they can mingle with their playmates again. If every school child in Colorado Springs would buy just one Red Cross seal, one of the 20 children at Sunnyrest could be sent home to the fold.

Ask your teacher for a seal today.

PREXY SHEDS COAT TO HELP HAUL COAL

Heads 250 Students in Work of Dragging Fuel to Colorado College

A unique use of college spirit was displayed at Colorado college yesterday when 250 men of the institution, headed by President Slocum, Dean Calori and several members of the faculty, relieved the coal famine at the college by pulling 10 tons of coal from a point three miles north of town. The roads were so blocked that eight horses were unable to pull the heavy loads and, in order to keep the buildings warm, and prepare for opening Monday, the coal had to be delivered.

At the chapel exercises yesterday morning President Slocum told the students the situation and the urgent demand for coal, and asked them to aid in getting it from the mines in response to the request, all the men promised to help, and yesterday afternoon gathered north of the golf club, where the wagons had become stuck in the drifts.

A long rope was procured and the men, together with the president, Dean Calori, and several of the professors, succeeded in getting the coal to the college, where it was stored in the boiler room. The remaining personal effects of Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy, that have been held by the war department since the time of the capture of the famous southern soldier and statesman, are to be turned over to Joel A. Hayes and children of this city, the only heirs of the estate.

A letter has been received by Mr. Hayes from Adjutant General Andrews announcing that Secretary Garrison would order the release of the relics as soon as the identity of the claimants is established.

Mr. Hayes' children, who will receive the relics are Mrs. Gerald Webb and William Davis Hayes of this city. Jefferson Hayes Davis of Utah (the name having been transposed by act of the Mississippi legislature), and Mrs. George Boyer Young of Telluride.

Firearms Chief Relics.

The relics of any value that the heirs will receive consist of firearms, included in these are a double barreled pistol, two dueling pistols, a bullet mould, two holsters and a pistol case.

The war department was surprised to learn that these articles had been separated from the rest of the Davis relics. When Richmond fell, President Davis gathered his personal effects and with his family escaped from the city. The packages were scattered and one of the parcels, containing the relics that will be returned to Colorado Springs was taken by Union forces at Gainesville, Fla. in June, 1865.

Numerous papers of historical and political importance and clothing were found among the effects, and when Davis returned in 1874 from a long European trip, he asked that the government return his belongings to him. This was done but some of the papers were retained. These, however, were all returned to him in 1880 when he began his history.

Recently a friend of the Hayes family, while collecting data for a history, discovered these effects of Jefferson Davis in the museum and notified the family here. Application was made at once for the articles by the heirs.

FAVOR SPECIAL CONVENTION NEXT YEAR

Committee Meets in Washington Next Tuesday to Take Up Reorganization

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The national Republican congressional campaign committee went on record here today as favoring a special national convention of the Republican party next year, and endorsed three plans as suggestions for reappointment of delegates to future conventions. It was resolved by the committee called together by its chairman, Representative Woods of Iowa, that, in its judgment:

"A special national convention of the Republican party should be held as soon as practicable to take action relative to the apportionment of delegates to the national nominating conventions of the party to the unit of representation; to the full recognition of the primary laws of the various states pertaining to the election of delegates and members of the national committee; and the time when the latter shall take office, and to such other matters as may seem desirable."

Up to Committee.

This resolution will be submitted to the Republican national committee, which meets here next Tuesday, together with the suggestion for reappointment of the delegates to the national convention. These will be presented, according to resolution of the congressional committee, "with-out intending to assume any of the prerogatives of the national Republican committee, but merely to contribute to the immediate consideration of the subject."

U. S. OFFICER SLOPS FIGHT AT TAMPICO

Admiral Fletcher Threatens to Open Fire With the Gunboat Wheeling

BOTH SIDES OREY ORDERS

Rebels Are Gaining Ground in Fierce Engagement That Lasts Two Days

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 12.—Rear Admiral Fletcher, commander of the American naval forces in Mexican waters, today ordered the rebels and federal fighting at Tampico to cease firing, threatening to open fire upon them with the guns of the gunboat Wheeling if his order was not obeyed. Both sides complied with the order.

This information is contained in a dispatch received tonight by Sir Lionel Carden, the British ambassador, from Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock, dock of the British cruiser Berwick, which is lying off Tampico.

Gunboat Aids Federal.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 12.—Two thousand federals at Tampico, protected by the shells of the gunboat Bravo more than by their own efforts, were awaiting late today a forward movement of the rebels or some other maneuver that might decide the fate of the sea port. The fighting which began two days ago continued at that time and it was indicated that the engagement might last another day or even longer.

How many rebels are engaged in the attack on Tampico is not known, but it is estimated that their number is at least twice that of the federal forces and that their operations indicate that they expect more aid from Victoria, capital of the state of Tamaulipas, which lies half way between Tampico and Monterey.

To Repair Railroad.

The rebels, who are in possession of the railroad yards and have stores of material and equipment, have detached from their lines sufficient men to undertake repairing the railroad north and west from Tampico to Ciudad Victoria. The damage that has been done this line, while enough to prevent the operation of trains, is not so great that it will long delay a resumption of traffic. Most of the destroyed bridges are small and can be easily replaced. Repairs to the roads southward from Victoria also are being pushed, and it is not improbable that the rebels will be able to transport fresh troops and additional artillery supplies in time to use them at Tampico before the government can send reinforcements to the port.

Occasional shells fell in the heart of the city of Tampico today and bullets from rifles and machine guns were numerous enough to make it advisable that all residents not engaged in the operations to seek cover. For the most part, the firing was limited to the artillery of the rebels and the guns of the Bravo.

Rebels Gain Ground.

The rebels hold the area between Tampico proper and the coast, including Dona Cecilia and Arbol Grande, suburbs, where are located the storage oil tanks of the Waters-Pierce company, the Cowdry interests, and the Huasteca company. The Waters-Pierce

The people of eastern El Paso county are breaking roads to the south while another effort is being made from the north to open the road. The county commissioners have ordered teams to work today on the Farmers road straight east of town. County Secretary W. H. ### HOLLIS DEFENDS RESERVE SYSTEM

OPPOSES GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

Senate Expects to Vote on the Measure Next Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The senate made fast progress today, and tonight in the debate of the currency bill, but no further steps were taken toward an agreement for a final vote. Senate leaders still hoped that speeches could be concluded and amendments disposed of in time for a vote on the passage of the bill next Wednesday. Today was spent in listening to speeches by Senators Hollis, Cummins, Stone, Newlands and Borah.

Senator Hollis, a Democratic member of the banking committee, who joined in the preparation of the Owen bill, defended the regional reserve system and the bank ownership of stock.

"The time may come," he said, "when we may wish to incorporate a great federal bank with the stock owned by people in general, dealing directly with the people, and competing with our present banks. But we are not addressing ourselves on that problem now. We are attempting to provide institutions in which existing banks may place their reserves with safety and yet have the use of these to a reasonable extent."

The expense consists of $2.50 for the director of the center and $1.00 per session for extra janitor service, making a total of $2.50 for an afternoon center accommodating approximately 300 children or about 11-12 cents per child.

ROST REBELS AT RULES IN CITY PARK ORDINANCE

Subjects to Many Regulations Until Purposes of Measure Are Explained.
Council Passes Law

After a lively tilt between Commissioner E. W. Frost and Judge H. G.
Lunt, chairman of the park commission, during which the former criticized practically all of the park rules, the city council yesterday morning passed on first reading an ordinance incorporating the regulations of the park board in force in the various city parks. Commissioner Frost was the only one to find fault with the proposed ordinance.

"There are so many rules in the ordinance that the average person will be afraid to go into a city park for fear of being arrested for a violation of one of them," declared Frost. Judge Lunt pointed out that the ordinance did not make it a crime to go into a city park, but only to go into a city park with a dog, a horse, or a carriage, and that the ordinance was designed to protect the park from such abuses.

"Another thing," said Frost, "is that the ordinance is so complicated that no one can understand it. It is a jumble of regulations that are not necessary and that are not enforced."

"Nothing of the kind," returned Judge Lunt. "The ordinance is merely designed to prevent the use of parks for anything but their proper purposes. The stars and stripes above my head," he declared, "are a flag may be carried through any park with perfect impunity from arrest."

10,000 Heart Balm Asked by Husband

After endeavoring for a year to win the love of his wife, Myrtle E.
Jones, after he alleged she transferred her affections to Dennis Burke, at one time a close friend of her husband, the latter—Thomas F. Jones—yesterday instituted suit in the district court at Denver, demanding damages of $10,000 in Burke.

Jones recites that his wife eloped with Dennis a year ago, when the couple were living in Colorado Springs.
Mrs. Jones was lured from her husband, the latter avers, by lavish promises of wealth and a life of ease and luxury.

Jones declares he has suffered a year of mental anguish and humiliation, and that his home has been destroyed and he has been deprived of the society, peace and comfort of his wife. He asks court to commit Burke to jail if he refuses to pay if a judgment is ained.

PERFECTING PLANS FOR ROADS MEETING

State Convention Here Next Month Will Bring Big Delegation

W. H. Emmons of Denver, secretary of the Colorado Good Roads association, was in Colorado Springs yesterday, meeting with the convention committee of the chamber of commerce to perfect plans for the fourth annual convention of the association, to be held in this city January 15-16.

The Good Roads association has a wide membership over the state and many delegates will be here for the meetings in January. Outside of the state political gatherings, good roads conventions probably attract more attention in the state generally than any other state meeting. The convention next month will be strictly a business session.

At the meeting yesterday it was announced that the railroads running into this city had granted rates for the days of the convention of one fare from some points and one and a third fare from other points for the round trip.

The chief subjects for discussion during the convention will be provision of additional funds for the state road fund by a state bond issue or direct levy, federal aid for highways in public land states, improvements in methods of construction and maintenance and changes in the organization of the association.

SESSIONS OF OLDER BOYS' ASSN. OPEN

200 Youths From All Over the State Gather at Local
Y. M. C. A. Building

The sixth annual conference of the Older Colorado Boys' Assn. opened at the Y. M. C. A. building last night and will continue today and tomorrow. Nearly 200 high school boys of the state are in attendance, and the association building was a busy place yesterday afternoon as the guests arrived and were assigned to their places of entertainment. Owing to traffic conditions, David R. Porter, New York, who was to have been the principal speaker at the sessions, will be unable to arrive. Lawrence K. Hall, high school boy's secretary of Kansas, has been secured to fill Mr. Porter's place and give the city address last night.

The conference proper opened at 8 o'clock last night with a short speech by Guy Kuts of Denver university, president of last year's conference. The address of welcome was made by Dr.
W. W. Flora, chairman of the boys' work committee of the state Y. M. C. A.

In his remarks he emphasized the importance of good conduct, and declared that the true meaning of the Y. M. C. A. was restraint and discipline.

After Dr. Flora's remarks, the organization for the present conference was effected and the following officers elected: Lester Morin, Colorado Springs, president; David Jones, Denver, vice president; and Walter Palmer, Castle Rock, secretary. Delegations from the following towns answered
roll call: Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou, Boulder, Castle Rock, La
Junta, Rocky Ford, Fort Morgan, Fort Collins, Pueblo, Akron, Fountain and Las Animas.

The first address of the evening was given by Walter S. Hopkins of Denver, state Y. M. C. A. secretary, who spoke on the subject, "How to Get the Most of the Conference." He made plain the fact that the personal conduct of an individual explains his character building.

Lawrence K. Hall, the last speaker, gave the delegates "A Glimpse of the High School Movement." He took leadership for his theme and challenged every boy present to go back to his respective school and become a leader. He named sincerity of purpose, right living and clean thinking as among the essential qualities of a boy or man who wishes to be a leader.

The complete program for today's sessions is as follows:

leader.

CITY SEEKING TITLE TO PIKES PEAK LAND

Watershed Would Be Better Protected if Tract Were Owned Outright

Efforts to secure title to the government land on the north slope of Pikes Peak will be continued by Colorado Springs during the present session of congress, the city council yesterday morning approving the action of City Attorney Henry C. Hall in writing Congressman H. H. Sedgwick to cooperate with Tacoma, Wash., which will make a similar request.

Colorado Springs will attempt to secure the passage of a bill introduced several years ago, giving the city the right to buy the lands on the Park for use as a watershed at a minimum price of $1.25 an acre. Congress passed a bill last spring giving the city permission to fence and patrol the watershed. However, it is thought the people of this city will not make the necessary expenditures on the land unless they own it.

W. E. McCLUNG WINS PLACE ON BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Drawing to Decide the Vote Gives Place to Manager of Newton
Lumber Company

W. E. McClung will be the fifth member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, as a result of lots drawn yesterday by the election judges, in accordance with the by-laws of the organization, to decide a tie between Mr. McClung, Thomas J. Fischer and J. C. St. John.
The slip bearing the name of Mr. Mc-Clung was drawn from the hat, and this entitles him to a place on the board. He is secretary and manager of the Newton Lumber company, and is actively interested in Colorado City and Manitou, as well as in Colorado Springs.

The new board of directors will be made up of the following, who will take office at the annual meeting, the third Tuesday in January: T. C.
Hickwood, Willard Donaldson, C. A.
Hibbard, C. E. Sedgwick and W.
E. McClung. The members of the new board will succeed F. A. Perkins, John Lemmon, W. H. Spurgeon, E. W. Kent and Ralph O. Giddings.

Resolutions Passed by City Council on Mr. Giddings' Death

The city council at its meeting yesterday morning passed the following resolutions on the death of Edwin W.
Giddings:

IN MEMORIAM—EDWIN WIGHT
GIDDINGS.
Born Rome, Mich., October 23, 1848.
Died Colorado Springs, Colo., December 12, 1913.

The city council of Colorado Springs, in making this public record of the death of its most helpful citizen, attempts no catalog of his virtues, services and charities. "He that hath pity upon the poor, lendeth unto the Lord."
Such loans are repaid in this life by a love and attitude which find no adequate expression. How they are repaid in the "other life we may not know until we enter."

But of his public service let it here be said that the acumen, the knowledge of men and the grasp of affairs,
which brought him success in business,
were given without stint to furtherance of the common welfare. Unwearied, unwavering, undeterred by physical infirmity during these later years, he gave in time, money, wise counsel, and personal attention to detail, his constant work for the benefit of this community. His services as former member of the city council were followed by unofficial aid in bringing together and guiding the committee of citizens out of whose efforts have grown the restoration of our war ruins, the framing of our charter, the reorganization of civic life
along the lines of practical efficiency, the reunion of our civic bodies in one central Chamber of Commerce, and the growth of a civic spirit upon which this council relies for the development of the city of our future.

To him has come rest: to us remains service, animated by his example but unaided by his counsel, except as they are treasured in our memory.

Resolved, That to his family, and on behalf of our people we tender the expression of our common loss, and of our sympathy in their bereavement.

Resolved, That this minute be spread upon the records of the council, and that engrossed copies thereof, signed by the members of the council, be delivered in person by the mayor to his widow, transmitted to the Chamber of Commerce, and hung on the walls of the mayor's office, as a tribute to one who has well served his fellow men.

TRUST COMPANY HAS BEEN APPOINTED AS TRUSTEE

The Colorado Title and Trust company of this city has been appointed by order of the district court to act as trustee for lands of the Fountain Valley Irrigation company, for the benefit of eastern creditors, during the existence of the receivership granted by the district court. Eric Swanson being the receiver. The local Trust company succeeds the Continental Trust company of Denver, formerly trustee, at the request of the eastern creditors of the company. The Colorado Title and Trust company is inno way interested in the affairs of the Fountain Valley, and except in this fiduciary capacity.

TO FEAST BUILDERS. The women of the Young Women's Christian association will banquet the builders and contractors who constructed the new home of the association at the corner of Kiowa street and Nevada avenue, tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the dining room of the Y. W. C. A.

W. H. GANDY, PIONEER, DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Former Resident of Springs Passes Away at Home in Long Beach

William H. Gandy, former police magistrate under the administration of Mayor Heizer, and for 20 years a resident of this city, died yesterday at his home in Long Beach, Calif., according to a message received by his daughter, Mrs. Fred M. Parker, 1023
North Corona street, M. 101. Mrs.
Parker have not been advised whether or not the body will be sent here for interment.

Mr. Gandy came to Colorado Springs from Mount Valley, Pa., about 25 years ago, and during the time of his residence here was active in the business life of the town. He was a volunteer of the Civil war and a member of G. A. R. post No. 101 of this city. For many years he was a member of El Paso lodge No. 1, A.
F. and A. M., but on leaving for Long Beach he changed his membership to a Masonic lodge there.

He started here in the boot and shoe business and established the store that later became the Vorthies shoe store on South Tejon street. He was also in the commission business for some years with Edward Kennedy as partner.

Mr. Gandy is survived by his wife,
four daughters—Miss Bessie Gandy, Long Beach, Calif.; Mrs. Parker of this city; Mrs. Merriam of Canon City, and Mrs. Stuart of Imperial, Cal., and by his only son, Newton S. Gandy, for several years a prominent attorney of this city, now of San Diego, Cal.

South End Revivals Well Attended; Speaker Says Redemption Is God's Greatest Plan

SALVATION GREAT BECAUSE OF COST, SAYS REV. CARSON

"How Shall We Escape If We Neglect So Great Salvation?" was the subject chosen by the Rev. R. E. Carson for his sermon at last night's service of the two-week revival meetings being held in the south end. The evangelist said in part:

"Salvation is great in that it is the only process of articulation by which the sin-cured race can be restored to original righteousness. It is therefore great because its source and supply is in God. It is great in its comprehensiveness. The plan does not assert the authority to restrain man from wrong doing, but it is so comprehensive that after man has sinned the blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from all iniquity. It is also great in its extent; it embraces the whole world—Heaven's greatest gift for earth's worst creature.
Its greatness is seen in its cost. The price of salvation was paid on Calvary's brow. God looked upon that scene and realizing the cost, the infinite cost of man's redemption, that it was the plan of God for the salvation of the race. Salvation is great in its results.

"The question of the hour seems to be 'What shall I do to be lost?' A man need not steal, murder, be impudent, dishonest in order to be lost. Just neglect this great salvation and you are lost. How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation? If the righteous scarcely be saved where shall the sinner and the ungodly appear?"

Although the roads have not been to Lytle, E. P. Matthews, who carries mail on the Star route, will attempt to reach that town today. No mail has gone out of the local postoffice for Lytle since December 2. Matthews will take only the letter mail today and intends to make the trip with a horse and light sled. He anticipates some difficulty in traveling over the roads and through the drifts and for that reason taking only one pouch so he can carry that through on his back if necessary.

SKATING SHOULD BE GOOD ON MONUMENT PARK LAKES

Caretaker Lang's Thoughtfulness Will Add Sport for Children and Older Folks as Well

The skating will be added to the winter sports of the season today when the lakes in Monument Valley park will be in condition for smooth traveling with steel blades. Caretaker Lang of the park last night flooded the lakes, which have been too rough for skate-ing since the storm and the ice should be of sufficient thickness for use by lovers of this sport. This will make the first good skating of the year.

The last week has seen much winter sport, especially sleighing, snowshoeing and skiing. These last two branches have not been in vogue for many years, but the depth and hardness of the snow made both attractive and now it is an amusement sight to see well equipped pedestrians skimming over the surface of the hardened snow.

Acacia hotel, and consisted of a large number of gifts, including a new car, a new house, and a new piece of land. The guests of the Acacia hotel, and those closely associated with Mr. Atkinson, were

U. S. S. VERMONT

DISABLED AT SEA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—With her starboard main shaft broken and several of her compartments flooded, the battleship Vermont is limping toward Hampton Roads on her return from the Mediterranean cruise under convoy of the battleship Delaware and the colliers Orion and Jason.

The accident occurred at 2:45 a. m. yesterday and at 8 o'clock last night the Vermont was 1,200 miles from Hampton Roads and 600 miles from Bermuda.

A radiogram to the navy department from Rear Admiral Charles E. Badger, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, describing the accident, said there was no cause for alarm. The Vermont is proceeding to Hampton Roads under her port engine, making eight knots in comparatively smooth sea. Admiral Badger says the skin of the ship and the propeller strut were examined by a diver and appeared uninjured. Neither the shafting nor the propeller was lost. The Vermont and her convoy should arrive at Hampton Roads about December 17 or 18.

Mechanical experts at the navy department believe the Vermont's stern tube shaft is broken and they think injury must also have been done to the bulkhead in order to permit water to flood the compartments.

CARNEGIE CALLS ON

PRESIDENT WILSON;

TALKS WITH RYAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Andrew Carnegie visited the White house today to inquire after President Wilson's health. He talked at length with Secretary Tumulty about world peace and went to the state department later to pursue the subject with Secretary Bryan.

As he left the White house, Mr. Carnegie said he thought business conditions were going to "be better than ever" after the new legislation, which congress has in hand, is passed. He expressed his satisfaction at the award of the Nobel prize to Secretary Root.

"I think Senator Root is one of the wisest men in America," said he. "President Roosevelt said so, and Mr. Morley told me he thought so, and I believe the best thing the Republican convention could do would be to nominate him for president."

"If there were to be no convention do you think he would be nominated at the primaries?" Mr. Carnegie was asked by one of his listeners.

"Well," said Mr. Carnegie, "so far as I am concerned, he would be."

Mr. Carnegie came to Washington to attend the annual meeting of the Carnegie Society for Scientific Research.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Anna Anusowitz, 18 years old, employed as confidential bookkeeper of the O. K. Bottling company at 528 West Thirty-fifth street, was killed today by a bomb sent to her employers. He head was blown off.

Thomas McCabe, managing salesman, was cut in the head by flying metal, and Michael Ryan, an employee, was injured by shattered glass.

The bomb on which the bomb was placed as Miss Anusowitz opened it was demolished and the office was wrecked. The bomb was delivered by express. Apparently it contained dynamite, as the force of the explosion was downward.

Who sent the bomb and why, were questions that set half a hundred or more detectives at work on every possible clue. On the wrapper they found in writing the return address—23 State street New York city. The building at this address is a large office building occupied chiefly by exporting firms who employ a number of foreigners.

The bureau of customs, working on the mystery with the few pieces of metal found in the floor and walls, announced that the missile was of similar construction to the bomb sent to Judge Rosalaki about two years ago.

EFFICACY OF TYPHOID VACCINATION SHOWN IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Compulsory vaccination for the prevention of typhoid fever in the United States army has given the country practically an "immunized" fighting force, but one case of the disease making its appearance during the first 11 months of 1912, according to reports just obtained from the office of Surgeon General Toney of the war department. The one soldier became ill during November, but five days after he had enlisted, and before he had been immunized. In no other army is anti-typhoid vaccination mandatory. So efficacious has been the treatment in the army that the navy has adopted the precedent, and it is today immunized with vaccine prepared in the laboratory of the army medical school.

In commenting on the record for the first 11 months of 1912, Alton G. Grinnell, of the office of the surgeon general of the war department, in a communication to the National Geographic society, says, "This record, compared with that of any year previous to the beginning of vaccination, seems little short of miraculous." He enclosed the following table of statistics, showing the incidence of typhoid in the United States army from 1903 to 1912, which tells the story in a nutshell:

Five years prior to 1908 (average)	160
Two years after vaccination had begun (1910)	44
Three years after vaccination had begun (1912)	18

Since 1908 a prodigious amount of work has been accomplished. Mr. Grinnell goes on to say:

Carefully Supervised.

"The various steps in the production of each dose of vaccine have been as carefully supervised as though it was to be used upon the president of the United States. Before it leaves the laboratory, it is tested upon guinea pigs, and the statistics above quoted show the results of this painstaking care. Large quantities have been furnished to the various departments of the government to the militia, and to a number of civil institutions. As soon as its success was assured the larger drug firms of the country sent representatives to Washington to learn the formula and to study the process of manufacture. The same vaccine is now prepared by these firms and sold to the medical profession of the country at a reasonable rate."

Mr. Grinnell points an encouraging picture when he says, "As the typhoid bacillus can live but a limited time in water, soil and other substances it is obvious that if new pollution is not added from time to time epidemics will be prevented. The general use of the prophylactic will, probably, extinguish the disease since the vaccination of an entire community absolutely prevents the carriage and all others from giving off the typhoid bacilli, and the focus from which new infection would ordinarily radiate is eliminated."

Reclamation Service Uses It.

The United States reclamation service decided to use the typhoid prophylactic early in the year among its field force which is scattered over a large area in the west. It was not compulsory but circulars were sent to the various camps describing the treatment and the results obtained in the army. One of the circulars contained the following ingenious pronouncement: "Typhoid fever can be prevented. You can and by being vaccinated. Prevention beats the physician and undertaker. Healthy persons may have typhoid tomorrow. Only those vaccinated or those who have had typhoid are immune. Immunity lasts three years. Don't hesitate. Get vaccinated today."

Over 40 persons, suffering for treatment, were vaccinated after this epidemic of typhoid fever broke out in the town of Malta. Most of the cases developing in Malta were four of the reclamation service men, who were taking their meals at a local cafe. One had refused to be vaccinated, one had had typhoid fever, and two were immunized by vaccination. The vaccinated man contracted a severe case of the disease, the other three escaped. The sequel was that the three people made arrangements to see a member of the service.

GOV. FLETCHER WILL NOT STAY EXECUTION

MONTELEONE, Dec. 12.—Gov. Fletcher today refused the petition for a stay of execution for Arthur H. Brown, sentenced to hang on January 2 next for the murder of Mrs. Lela at Essex Junction in June 1911.

Counsel for the condemned man said that because Brown was a British subject the British embassy at Washington was being the case, and might ask for a stay of execution. Brown has a wife and children in England.

PROBE DEATH OF WOMAN WITH DIES ON OPERATING TABLE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A coroner's physician began today an investigation of the death of Mrs. Helen L. Mackay, widow of the Rev. Dr. Donald Mackay, for many years pastor of the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas on Fifth avenue and president of the general synod of the reformed church in America. Mrs. Mackay died yesterday afternoon under the influence of ether on an operating table in a private hospital where she had registered a few hours before as Mrs. J. H. Stone of Boston.

A scrap of paper in her handbag, on which she had scribbled her name, and address, led to her identification. The belief that she was suffering from an incurable disease led her to visit the hospital for an examination according to the theory of the coroner. Ether was given at her own request. Heart failure under the anesthetic caused death. Early today the body lay unclaimed. Then a daughter sought to have the body removed to an undertaker. She was not permitted to do so until the coroner's examination should have been completed.

Mrs. Mackay was a daughter of the late J. Gregor Smith, one time governor of Vermont, from whom she inherited a large fortune. She was buried in New York society. Dr. Mackay died suddenly in a railroad station in Portland, Me., in August, 1903.

GANGS FIGHT DUEL NEAR MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Fifty shots were fired this morning near the Fourth avenue entrance at Madison Square garden, in a battle royal between two gangs that have infested the garden during the six-day bicycle race.

A Madison avenue street car was commandeered by one element as a barricade, while bullets whistled in all directions. Passengers threw themselves face downward on the floor. The police were prompt in reaching the scene but the combatants jumped into automobiles and escaped. So far as is known no one was hurt, a remarkable fact in view of the promiscuous shooting.

It is said that the battle started in a row over the right of rival leaders to furnish "strong arm" men for special police work in the garden.

MEMORY IS RESTORED BY HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE

OGDEN, Utah, Dec. 12.—Under hypnotic influence and directed in conversation by Prince, Henry Peterson of the Ogden High school, W. C. Walraven, whose actual identity has been a mystery, because of lost memory since October 11, when he was found seriously injured and robbed on an electric line right-of-way south of Ogden, said that he was on his way to San Francisco to get work on the Panama-Pacific apartment buildings as an electrician.

He said that a fellow workman, Sylvester Weisinger, was waiting there for him. He also described how he had been thrown from an interurban car and robbed. He was also recognized.

PENNSYLVANIA LINES TO READJUST FARES

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—Further readjustments of transportation charges for employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad company was predicted here today when passenger officials let it be known that tickets for shop men would expire December 31 next. Heretofore such tickets, 100 trips for $5, have been sold to workmen in the company's shops, good for one year from the date of issue.

It was also stated that no application blanks for clerical tickets for next year had been received at the Pittsburgh offices. As a rule these blanks are available for the signatures of clerical men December 1 and the fact that none had been given out caused passenger men to believe that the low rates heretofore available for clerical men would be discontinued.

In every 1,000 marriages solemnized in Great Britain 21 are between first cousins. Among the nobility the rate is much higher, amounting to 45 in 1,000.
